Up to a maximum of £2,500 per month, plus, up to 31 July, the associated employer national insurance contributions and pension contributions (up to the level of the minimum automatic enrolment employer pension contribution) on that subsidised furlough pay. Shareholding directors ("owner managers") can furlough themselves in respect of their director's duties, but only in respect of their salaries (not any dividends) and directors can only carry out their statutory duties. Eligibility date extended to 19 March 2020 and scheme extended to 31 October 2020, but, from 30 June, employers will only be able to furlough employees that they have furloughed for a full three-week period prior to 30 June. From 1 July, employers will be able to bring furloughed employees back part time, while still being able to claim CJRS grant for their normal hours not worked.	Through the Self Employment Income Support Scheme (SEISS) the self-employed (including partners), the majority of who's income is derived from self-employment, can secure a taxable direct grant of 80% of their average profit for the three tax years ending with the 2018/19 tax year or a shorter period (even just the 2018/19 tax year) if three years' accounts are not available. This is subject to a maximum payment of £2,500 per month for three months, i.e. £7,500. The first grant can be applied for up until 13 July. Applications for a second grant open in August, worth 70% of average monthly trading profits, covering three months' worth of profits, and capped at £6,570 in total. To qualify, the 2018/19 profit or average profit for up to three years ending with 2018/19 must not exceed £50,000, and the self-employed individual/partner must: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> have traded in 2019/20; be trading when they apply, or would be except for coronavirus; intend to continue to trade in 2020/21; and have lost trading profits due to coronavirus. Claimants can continue to work and generate profit.	Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS): will reimburse an employer with up to 80% of the pay of an employee who is not working but kept on the payroll ("furloughed"). Sick Pay – click here and here	Currently £95.85 for 2020/21, would be available to employees from day one instead of day four, including for those advised to self-isolate. However, there was no change in the minimum earnings threshold for SSP (£120 a week in 2020/21).	See Benefits below.	Businesses with fewer than 250 employees can be refunded for the cost of SSP for up to 14 days. The size of an employer will be determined by the number of people they employed as of 28 February 2020.
Benefits – click here	From 6 April 2020, for 12 months, the standard allowance in Universal Credit (UC) and the basic element in Working Tax Credit (WTC) will be increased by £20 a week over and above the planned annual uprating. This will apply to all new and existing UC claimants and to existing WTC claimants.	For those not entitled to SSP (e.g. the self-employed and gig economy workers), Contributory Employment and Support Allowance (ESA – a basic £74.35 a week for those 25 and over) will be claimable from day one instead of day eight. To ensure that time off work due to sickness is reflected in benefits, the minimum income floor in Universal Credit (UC) is temporarily removed if an individual gets coronavirus or has to stay at home because of it. The minimum income floor won't apply to anyone after 6 April 2020. This will last until the coronavirus outbreak is over. The stated aim is to ensure every self-employed person can now access, in full, UC at a rate equivalent to SSP for employees.

The minimum income floor is usually what someone of the same age would earn if they worked at the National Minimum Wage for the number of hours that the self-employed individual is expected to work or look for work. Normally, if the self-employed individual earns less than the minimum income floor, UC will not make up the difference.
